CleverGet has a default download directory setting for video and audio downloading, but allows you to change the directories. On CleverGet, click the three-dot icon ••• and then click "Settings" option on the drop-down menu. On the pop-up "Settings" window, under "General" tab, set output directory in the "Save Video To" and "Save Audio To" boxes and change other settings like program UI language, appearance, max download tasks, etc. You could check "Create subfolder for each stream service" option to save online videos in related sub-folder according to module names. After that, click the blue "Save" button.
